The outer maps, over the range h actually reaches. Dashed line = one observed y; dots = the h values that could have produced it.